

Laptop Hinge Trouble

Escrito por MichaelMorin - 24/04/2018 04:00

Hi,

So my HP laptop has served me well over the last 2 years, but the right lid hinge recently started to have some problems. whenever I try to open or close it, it feels like I'm breaking it just trying to close it. The hinge just seems like it's having a bit of trouble turning and the two parts of the screen border have started to unclip because of it. I was just needing to know if there is some way that I can fix this myself, or if it's something that I need to take to get fixed?

Please help.

I didn't find the right solution from the Internet.
