Escrito por MichaelSmith - 14/05/2018 06:49

Hello,

So, I am taking a class on the economic history of America starting with the colonial times and going all the way up to modern day America. We have to write a research paper in this class, however, I need help finding an idea for a topic. The paper has to be 10-15 pages and I need 10 sources and footnotes and crap like that. So, I am having a hard time coming up with an idea for a topic. If I am given an idea, I can run with it, but I can't think of anything. So, can someone please recommend me some ideas on topics to write about regarding American economic history?

Please help

I didn't find the right solution from the internet.
