

Medical insurance - Brit flying in Spain

Escrito por deprussell - 20/06/2018 11:27

Hello,

I'm off to Alicante on Friday and it just occurred to me that my travel insurance policy excludes 'dangerous sports' listing paragliding as one of them. Does anyone know whether there's such a thing as an E111 any longer or something similar that covers medical treatment in the EU for a British national? If not, can anyone recommend a good travel/medical insurance company who cover paragliding?

Please help

I didn't find the right solution from the internet.
